

Keys to Successful Abstract Submission

- Abstracts are accepted for consideration by ANPA and the Journal of Neuropsychiatry and Clinical Neurosciences with the understanding that each submitted work either:
  - represents original material that has not been published previously or is not being considered for publication elsewhere, OR
  - is “encore abstract” (i.e., an abstract previously presented or published elsewhere) which the submitting author(s) has approval from the copyright holder to the abstract (i.e., the journal or publisher of the conference proceedings in which was published, if transfer to that journal or publisher was made at the time of publication) or if the journal in which it was published previously does not have a policy that precludes its publication elsewhere. All abstracts must have been approved for submission by each author listed on the abstract.
- Abstract submissions not adhering to the guidelines provided in the General Format Guidelines (below) and following the structure relevant to the type of abstract submitted (i.e., Research Report or Clinical Case Report) will be returned unreviewed to the corresponding author for revision and resubmission.
- Submissions take place through Oxford Abstracts platform (see ANPA website for link to this platform).
- Submission of an abstract reflects a commitment on the part of the authors to present the abstract at the annual meeting of ANPA. Accepted abstracts must be presented in person at the ANPA annual meeting by an author of the work. Abstracts that are not presented in person by one of the abstract authors will not be published in the Journal of Neuropsychiatry and Clinical Neurosciences.

General Abstract Formatting Guidelines

- Abstracts must be submitted in the fields provided in Oxford Abstracts.
- List the title at the top of the abstract and in the following format: The First Letter of Each Word is Capitalized, Except for the First Letter of Mid-Sentence Determiners, Prepositions, and Conjunctions.
- List author name(s) only in the fields specifically for such provided in Oxford Abstracts – do not include them in the space intended for the title or the body of the abstract.
- Provide author affiliation(s) only in the fields specifically for such provided in Oxford Abstracts – do not include them in the space intended for the title or the body of the abstract.
- The body of the abstract is limited to 250 words (i.e., not including title and authors).
- Scientific words can be entered in mixed case (e.g., fMRI).
- Do not include references in the abstract (i.e., do not include in-text citations or a bibliography/reference list).
- Do not include tables, figures, and videos in the abstract or with the abstract submission.
- Do not include keywords in your submission.
